

Trophy Taker, Inc Acquires Tight Point Shuttle T-Lock Broadheads
Press Release- December 17, 2008

Trophy Taker, Inc is pleased to announce the acquisition of the Shuttle T-Lock family of broadheads. Formerly sold under the Tight Point brand, the Shuttle T-Lock broadhead will now be distributed as part of Trophy Taker's archery product mix.

Trophy Taker owner and President Dan Evans says that, "The Shuttle T-Lock broadhead is a perfect addition to our archery product line. Shuttle T-Lock has proudly been able to boast 'guaranteed blade retention' from its conception. That fits right into our goal of offering rock solid, bullet proof products that work in all hunting conditions. We won't sell something that I would not personally use on my bows and I know first hand how accurate, tough and deadly the T-Lock broadheads are."

Trophy Taker General Manager Jerrod Lile adds that, "Butch Summers (owner and designer of the Shuttle T-Lock broadhead) has done an excellent job of taking care of this company. Trophy Taker is excited to take over an existing line that has received expert care from the CEO in every facet of the business. Butch has been customer service oriented and extremely aggressive about quality control. Every Shuttle T-Lock broadhead that has left Butch's facility has been hand inspected for sharpness and spin tested for accuracy. Trophy Taker intends to continue that commitment to quality as the broadhead is brought into our care."

The Shuttle T-Lock broadhead concept was born out of the desire to blend the convenience and sharpness of a replaceable blade broadhead with the indestructibility of a single piece broadhead. The patented T-Lock design accomplishes this goal. Trophy Taker is eager to create a family of T-Lock broadheads that all combine the convenience of replaceable blades with the guaranteed blade retention that the Shuttle T now boasts.

Trophy Taker will unveil a new broadhead in the T-Lock family at the 2009 ATA show in Indianapolis. The Terminal T-Lock is a straight edge version of the Shuttle T-Lock that features a more conventionally shaped blade for consumers who prefer a traditional look and feel to their broadheads.

Both Trophy Taker and Tight Point customers can rest assured that an immense amount of preparation has been put forth to ensure that the transition will be smooth and seamless for each and every customer involved.